THE finishing touches have been put on Waterview Margate Beach and it is now complete and ready for inspection.

This 48-unit complex captures sweeping views of Moreton Bay to the Glasshouse Mountains and offers facilities including a pool, fully equipped gymnasium, and a resident's rooftop barbecue and entertaining area.

Ray White Project Marketing (Queensland) managing director Graeme Sharp said that interested parties had been impressed with the "value for money" the development provides.

"Taking into consideration the views, quality of the finishes and especially the prime location of the project, the apartments are great value for money," he said.

Waterview residents will have access to an array of lifestyle offerings in the area such as living next door to the Margate shopping and cafe precinct with waterside hotels and restaurants nearby and the beach is at the street's end.

Each apartment comprises three bedrooms, including master suites with spacious walk-in wardrobes and ensuites, high ceilings, and floor-to-ceiling glass ensure ample natural light fills the interiors.

Quality granite kitchens are equipped with European appliances and are complete with two-pack finishes and each apartment also has secure car accommodation with two car parks reserved for the majority of units.

Mr Sharp said interested parties have been very positive about how the design of the apartments was in sync with the area's "leisurely feel".

"The spacious living areas open up to your lifestyle balcony from which you'll be able to catch extended views of the Moreton Bay's blue waters," he said.

"Each of the top floor apartments comes with a private rooftop terrace which are huge areas perfect for entertaining family and friends."

Remaining apartments are priced from $385,000.
